

COUNCIL ASKED TO OPEN ATHABASCA ACROSS C.P.R.

Most Dangerous Spot in the City—City Solicitor Bown Has Been Instructed to Prepare Plans and Lay the Matter Before the Board of Railway Commissioners.

The opening of Athabasca avenue, the right to make application for the across the C.P.R. yard between Ninth and Eleventh streets is again a live issue. Following representations made to the city council last night by James Ryan on behalf of property owners in that vicinity, the city solicitor was instructed, on motion duly carried, to take the necessary steps in bringing opening up of the alleyway to the commissioners' attention. He said who should bear the cost of same and in what proportion.

Alderman Smith said that this is one of the most dangerous points in the city, and it is only a question of time until this street must be opened-up in some way. He suggested that it

Mr. Ryan explained that the proposed subway would be built on the right of way of the old Erie street, and that the matter should be left with the board of railway commissioners to decide how the opening is to be done.

South Side Agreement.

In May, 1906, the city of Strathcona entered into an agreement with the Erie railway for the transfer of a certain number of lots for yards and right of way on the south side. It developed city councilmen. "I don't see how we can settle this avenue opened up this year as they are in knowing whether it will ever be an open street or not. He called the attention of the council to the fact that efforts have been made to divert some of the traffic from Jasper avenue, but with this break in Altabaska there is really no other street available at the present time.

Altermann May said that this question has been up now before three councils, and it is time that it should be dealt with in some shape. He suggested that the city solicitor might give the council some advice as to how matters now stand.

The way to deal with the problem is to give them no more than we have to, as the way they treat us," he remarked.

This question has been referred to the committee of safety and health for a report. Aldermen Douglas and Calder voted for an amendment that the agreement be signed and the

by the street railway department was brought to the attention of the city council. The council then referred the matter to the committee on public safety, which is headed by Alderman Smith to the effect that the commission be asked to make a study of the problem. It is reported that sufficient cars are put on the different lines to take care of the passengers, but that the existing inadequate facilities for the transportation of freight is a problem.

At the city council motion was put A. J. Meyer. Meyer disclosed, that there were three in favor and three opposed to the motion. The motion was in favor with the explanation that he believed that the city council should take action on the matter.

In support of his motion Alderman Smith related what has been heard from the city council. He stated that it would not be fair at this time to carry this motion. If it is not approved, it will be a waste of time. The parent companies are made then to be a waste of time. The motion was in favor, said Alderman Kinney.

Many Lines Inadequate

Alderman Sheppard said that the existing facilities for the transportation of freight are inadequate. He stated that many of the lines of the system, but that the city council should take action on the matter.

Alderman Kinney, that the matter should be left with the commission. He stated that it is a waste of time to carry this motion. It is the fact that a new waterfront has been secured and that the city council should take action on the matter.

Alderman Smith used the west end line as an illustration, and pointed out quite clearly that the cars are so crowded during the rush hours that it is often impossible, even to get on.

A BY-LAW FOR THE DIMINUTION OF HEART-ACHES

In the annual report of the children's shelter it is set out that 444 juveniles who, for one reason or another, required protection or direction passed through the hands of that institution in 1913.

This showing, while it is a tribute to the usefulness and the good work being done by the Children's Aid, must also indicate to those who give such matters thought that there is a constantly-growing necessity for a better environment in this city for a much larger number of children than actually came into the hands of the institution.

The Children's Aid is the modern application of that all-embracing charity which presumes that what is called crime in children is merely mis-directed energy, and that the cure is not the cruelty of prisons and the lash, but a better environment in which the child has the opportunity to develop along normal lines.

Play is the part in nature's scheme which provides the children with the proper outlet for their energies and the opportunities for physical and mental development. But as the city grows and the surface of the earth becomes covered with buildings or fenced off against trespass, the opportunities for play are circumscribed. Everyone who has lived in a large city is familiar with the handicap under which the city boy grows, as compared with the village youth or the country lad. The sand lot turns out ball players and freckled-faced scrappers, who pound for pound, can rip the cover off the asphalt product of any city in the universe and who keep continually coming to town and doing it in politics, industry, science and art.

If, therefore, the children of the city are to have the opportunity to develop as they should, they must have plenty of room to play and the facilities and equipment necessary to healthy, natural exercise. This is what the bylaw providing for expenditures on parks and playgrounds, upon which the ratepayers are asked to vote on April 6, proposes to provide. There is provision for a public swimming bath to take the place of the old swimming hole in which you used to splash around when a boy. Public parks which are now merely vacant lots are to be equipped with swings, sand piles and all the paraphernalia necessary to childish enjoyment, and supervisors will be on hand to see that the enjoyment is as complete as possible.

The cost of the whole thing is a trifle, being only a fraction of the half mill levied to cover parks development. But in the sane consideration of such a matter the cost cannot be allowed to be the determining factor, because there is a credit balance which cannot be computed in dollars and cents. With proper playgrounds provided there will be proportionately less for the Children's Aid to attend to and a consequent diminution of heart-aches and mother-woes. Without playgrounds, the 444 who passed through the hands of the Children's Aid last year must be accepted as merely a manifestation of what is certain to come.

To defeat the playgrounds bylaw, as is being seriously urged in some quarters, would be heartless and callous brutality.

ADDING THE ROLE OF KNOCKER TO ITS REPORTORIE

"Calgary has sold an issue of debentures at 96 net. Edmonton obtained 94.11 for the unsold debentures on hand from last year. The interest rate in each case is five per cent. which means that something more than five has to be paid for the money actually received. There are not temporary loans, but long-term debenture issues. While prices for issues of this character are better, the prudent course will be to borrow only what cannot be done without."

The foregoing from the Bulletin is untrue, and the Bulletin is fully aware of its untruth when it publishes the statement, as the same statement, made previously by the Bulletin, has already been corrected by no less an authority than the city treasurer.

Calgary sold $2,243,117 at 93½. Adding the accrued interest, the aggregate (not the net) amounted to 96.

Edmonton sold $2,000,000 at 94.11. Adding the accrued interest, as in the Calgary case, the aggregate amounted to 98½.

In either way of figuring, Edmonton got a higher price. The Bulletin has absolute knowledge of this. But in its desire to prejudice the public mind in the hope that the bylaws will be defeated, it is willing to add to its achievements as a brazen liar the role of knocker as well.

A newspaper which, in the hope that it may embarrass men in office whom it does not like, is willing to slander the credit of its own city and which would cheerfully lie up its public works, is not entitled to much respect at the hands of the citizens.

FACTS GOOD ENOUGH FOR EDMONTON'S ADVERTISEMENT

As an evidence of the advantages which Edmonton enjoys climatically, it is interesting to note that the building season has already opened and building has been active in several sections of the city for the past week or ten days.

There are many cities hundreds of miles farther south than Edmonton in which building operations will not start for a number of weeks yet, and in which a March opening of the building season was never heard of.

The explanation, of course, does not require to be made to Edmontonians. They have heard all about Asiatic currents, isothermal line and the entire philosophy of the weather. But as an advertisement of Edmonton's attractiveness, it is complete corroboration of the oft-repeated epygram that the facts are good enough.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

Jewish Festival of Purim, the Hebrew Carnival, Begins Tonight

With the setting of the sun tonight the Jews of the world will begin the celebration of the festival of Purim, which has been called the Hebrew Carnival because of the rollicking spirit which marks its observance. Purim falls on the fourteenth of the month Adar, which corresponds this year to the twelfth of March. As the Jewish people count days from sunset to sunset, however, Purim commences this evening.

Purim, of the Festival of Lots, was instituted by Borsada and commemorates the deliverance of the Jews from the destruction which threatened them by Haman. It is a day of joy and gladness and in some Jewish centers of population it is marked by masquerading, processions, the lighting of bonfires, the burning of Haman in effigy, the singing of comic songs and other manifestations of the carnival spirit.

Haman, who hanged so high that he gained a permanent place in history, was a favorite of King Ahasuerus of Persia. He was a villain of the deepest dye, and in order to revenge himself on Mordecai, the Jew who plotted the extermination of all the Jews in the kingdom. He was thwarted by Esther, fell in disgrace with the monarch, and wrought his own ruin and the upbuilding of the Jewish story in the book of Esther. It is so remarkable for its dramatic unity and in the perfect cast of characters presented as to be comparable to a Shakespearean play.

Its dramatic qualities are such that many Jewish scholars accept this view of the book of Esther for the reason that the author makes no mention of the name of Jehovah. Purim, as a festival, is alleged to be an outgrowth of a more ancient Babylonian celebration, which in turn was based on an old Egyptian myth. In this respect it resembles most Christian festivals, which had their origin in paganism. Mordecai himself instituted the observance of Purim, according to the Talmud, by the reading of the book of Esther to the Jewish people, which is still followed, and this evening and again tomorrow morning the wonderful story of Esther will be read from a written scroll called Megillah. In synagogues all over the world. The recital is a solemn and impressive ceremony and vast crowds always gather to hear the melodious chanting of the cantors. In older times and even to day in some of the more remote Jewish centers, their recital was punctuated with shrill howling by the audience at every mention of Haman's name.

The interchange of gifts and the sending of food and money to the poor is a Purim custom. Long ago it became customary to make collection for the synagogue in aid of the needy. The poorest Jew, even one who was himself dependent upon charity, was supposed to give something to some Jew even more impoverished than himself.

After the formal ceremonial in the synagogues the observance of Purim now takes on a social and convivial nature. That Israel's enemies are always in the end defeated and punished, and that the Jewish people are capable of surviving all plots and persecutions, are the lessons derived from Purim. The festival is a favorite with the fair sex, and as early as the third century B.C. Esther and Levi prescribed compulsory attendance at Purim services for the fair sex, because it was a woman, Queen Esther, through whom the wonderful deliverance of the Jews was accomplished.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

Cipriani, Italian Rebel, Begins 70th Year Today

Amibare Cipriani, the fire-eating Italian revolutionist and veteran of far-flung army, will begin his seventieth today, having been born in old Rimini on March 11, 1843. So far as a Richard Harding Davis novel ever had so many hairbreadth escapes as Cipriani, who has served only terms in prison, has been twice confined to death, and is now an exile from his native land. A few weeks ago he was elected to the Italian chamber of deputies by a Milan constituency, but the decree of banishment will prevent him from taking his seat, as it has on eight previous occasions when Italian socialists have chosen Cipriani as their representative at Rome. Cipriani has been described in some of the press dispatches as an anarchist, but this is an error, as he is a disciple of the Marxian philosophy. In his latter years, spent principally in France, he has been a student, and he has come to believe that education, rather than war and violence, will save the world.

Cipriani was a lad of 14 when he began his adventurous career, enlisting as a soldier in the army that defended Italy against the Austrian invasion. He took part in the battles of Magenta and Solferino, when the Austrians were defeated. When the peace pact, at which Italy was disarmed, was signed at Villafranca, and Garibaldi exhorted the Italians to arms, Cipriani deserted and joined Garibaldi at Naples. He was with the leader of the red-shirted army when Garibaldi met Victor Emmanuel and said, "King of Italy," and he heard that monarch's reply, "I thank you." Cipriani followed the fortunes of Garibaldi, in his campaign for "Rome or death," until the leader was wounded and taken prisoner at Aspromonte in August, 1862. It was then that Cipriani heard for the first time the sentence of death passed upon him. He had escaped, and for several years lived the life of a wandering outcast in Crete, Egypt and Greece.

Cipriani's next appearance upon the revolutionary stage was in France, where he landed in 1868. He was active as a leader of the republicans in those wild days when barricades were erected in the streets of Paris and riots were of daily occurrence. When a price was placed upon his head, Cipriani

Joint Quit Aching: Nervine Drives Soreness Away

NO MORE STIFFNESS, PAIN OR MISERY IN YOUR BACK OR SIDE OR LIMBS

Wonderful! "Nervine" is the Remedy! A marvelous pain reliever. Not an ordinary liniment—just penetrating, more pain-subduing than any thick, oily or ammonia liniment. Nervine fairly eats up the pain and stiffness in chronic rheumatic joints, gives quick relief to those troubling pains, and never burns or even stings the skin.

"Rheumatism kept my joints swollen and sore for two weeks. My right knee joint was often too painful to allow me to walk. In this crippled condition I found Nervine a blessing. Its warm, soothing action brought relief. I had given up hoping for relief on quantities of Nervine. I rubbed on quantities of Nervine and improved steadily. I also took Ferronate at meal time in order to quickly and enrich my blood. I am today well and can recommend my treatment most conscientiously.

Refuse a substitute, take only "Nervine." Price Abner. Not an ache or pain in the muscles or joints that Nervine won't cure. Its wonderful for lumbago and sciatica; for neuritis, stiff neck, earache and toothache. Nervine is simply a wonder. Best family liniment known and largely used for the past forty years. and sought refuge for a time in England, but returned to Paris during the siege and fought as a soldier. Later he affiliated himself with the commune of Paris. When the commune organization was overthrown the Italian was arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced to death. A commutation was granted, however, and he was sent to the terrible settlement of New Caledonia, where he soon led a revolt of the convicts.

In 1879 Cipriani was released and returned to Paris, where he joined the staff of the newspaper Le Citoyen and attacked the government. After a short term in prison he was expelled from France, and, in disguise, returned to Italy to visit his aged father. He was recognized, arrested, and convicted of desertion from the army. Again he found himself behind prison walls, and while there he was first elected to parliament by the socialists. He was pardoned after a few months, but his revolutionary utterances soon brought him into trouble again, and he served another prison term of two years.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY

A storm of impassioned oratory swept over the house of commons 30 years ago today, beginning with the introduction of Mr. Landry's famous resolution asking the house to express regret that the sentence of death passed upon Louis Riel was permitted to be carried into execution.

Mr. Landry, a conservative, did not mince words in condemning the government for the death of Riel, which he called a breach of the laws of justice and humanity, the gratification of a desire for vengeance, and the heinous and wanton sacrifice of a French-Canadian Catholic upon the altar of sectarian hatred and bigotry." He stated the statement of the French Conservative Journal, "Le Monde": "Pamphlets were sent to the ministry. Mr. Blake's address was a noteworthy effort, abounding in clear reasoning and vigorous denunciation. J. S. D. Thompson, of Nova Scotia, who had just entered the government as minister of justice, gave by far the most exposition of the ministry's attitude toward the question at issue. His speech was a masterly effort and was followed by a series of resolutions for the prevention of the threatened execution of the French exiles of the conspiracy of 1870-71. The last of the resolutions, one of the most wonderful in Canadian political annals, had submitted the government to a vote with a majority of 146 to 42.

The threatening ghost of Riel was excited, and other questions and issues soon came up to occupy the attention of the Dominion Parliament.

LATEST POPULAR SONG

Odd Love Ballad Expressing Sentiment of Feminine Fidelity.

A new song in which lovers, single or wedded, make the appeal of loyalty. In the latest New York hit. The song, which is entitled, "Would You Take Me Back Again?" is a sentimental affair, quite freshly written, with a waltz chorus on the order of the previous ballad, "Mine". "Why Did You Make Me Care?" and other love songs. Following is a portion of the chorus:

WOULD YOU TAKE ME BACK AGAIN?

Chorus by ALFRED SOLMAN

Would you take me back again? Would you take me back again? Would you take me back again? Would you take me back again?

The song is written in only one measure with a number of old harmonies that seem to particularly appeal to the fair sex.

THE JOLLY JOLLIER AT PANTAGES TELLS AMUSING ANECDOTES

Jas. O. Barrows, who plays the role of the Jollier in the delightful little sketch which has been amusing Pantages patrons so this week relates the following anecdote.

There was a most persistent actor who insisted upon applying to the manager of a well-known metropolitan theatre for a job always receiving as a reply that he must see his stage manager who attended to this work.

Finally the dilapidated stranger contrived to gain access to the stage manager, who was kindly assisting the musical leader in string up candidates for the chorus. But this did not prevent him, between songs, from interrupting the stage manager with frequent requests for a job.

The director at length became exasperated. Turning to the pianist, he directed him to play an accompaniment for the seedy-looking applicant. After some hesitation the stranger, urged by the manager, offered his services, and his efforts were not without success.

At this the applicant himself displayed anger. "See here!" he exclaimed, "I don't mind. I don't want to be a singer. I am a stage carpenter. I was only singing to please you. You insisted upon it."

REAL MONTANA COWBOY DELIGHTS THE ORPHEUM AUDIENCES WITH SONG

Bill Fruit, whose songs have contributed much toward the pleasure of audiences at the Empire theatre the first half of this week, where the Montana cowboy is a feature of the Orpheum vaudeville bill, is a real honest-to-goodness cowboy. Bill has been in vaudeville only eight weeks, and he would not be there today if it were not for the fact that he took his cowboy band of eight pieces to Chicago and Minneapolis and while in the former city surrounded one Andrew Dixon, grand opera conductor, for excellence and temperamental impression in two or three different parts and languages.

Bill is generally known as a hand at a number of different trades, and a reputation among the ranchers around Great Falls, Montana, when he owned a ranch there. Bill thought it would be a good idea to organize a horse band among the cowboys on his ranch. The cowboys were agreeable although they knew no more about band instruments than a horse fly knows about horse trade.

However, the numbers, 12 in number rehearsed night and day. Their musical efforts were successful to the extent of driving all the cowboys off the ranch, and Bill was delighted. Different practice eventually resulted in a first-class musical organization, small in size but big, but large in local volume.

Sure Way to Regain Robust Bloom of Youth

A smooth, velvety soft skin, with a delicate peach-like bloom, is one of the creature's most exquisite works. When the first blush of youth is over, this beautiful that and satiny bloom are rarely seen. How to preserve them—bath their quality. It is most beauty experts abroad long have known that ordinary unperfected skin works wonders in this direction. It actually gives a new surface to the skin, and a more delicate complexion than one of the most perfect in the world.

To remove wrinkles, or delay their formation, a few bath made by dissolving in powdered vasoline 1-2 pt. with water, will be found wonderfully effective. This time by relaxed skin, raising it to its normal firm smooth.

Great Falls heard the hand on a festive occasion last summer and he thought it would be a good idea to have Bill and his cow punchers go to Minneapolis to attend the land show and to Chicago, where other festivities were in progress. Bill acquired, and the hand carried off first prize in the horse show.

While in Chicago the Montana serenaded Andrew Dixon, Bill sang out that occasion also, and Andrews decided to put Bill in vaudeville. That's why Bill is working for Martin Beck and he yearns for the cattle range, but in not certain whether vaudeville is all they say about it or not. Besides, the price of feed is going up this summer. Bill predicts that that always makes the Montana rancher feel his oats.

$25,000 for Play for Children

To have made such an announcement a few years ago would have caused people to gasp in astonishment and yet such is the round figures the sum which the city of Edmonton proposes to spend this year.

Let us analyze this statement and see what it means.

Well, briefly it means that the necessity of providing proper facilities for play is now recognized as a definite means of improving the quality of citizenship.

It means that this year the intention is to improve some of the city's waste property so that it will become the popular playground for the children, leaving them in the open, off the streets, and under proper supervision.

What is a playground?

Merely a place where children or adults or both like to go to play their games and which do you think they would go to if given the choice between an unimproved rough piece of ground and a smooth surfaced playground?

The streets are no place for children to play; you will often hear said.

True but if you wanted to play marbles would you go on a rough street or on the sidewalk?

That is the crux of the situation and in taking steps to provide facilities and supervision, Edmonton is merely following in line with other cities on the continent where playgrounds are in operation.

What do we get for the expenditure?

We get four playgrounds for children up to 18 and two athletic fields for the young athletes.

These playgrounds will be situated one at the corner of Syndicate and Boyle, one at the corner of Syndicate and Gallagher and one at the corner of First avenue south and Fifth street west. All of them of large size, capable of accommodating large groups of children at all kinds of games and a smaller playground at the corner of Fourteenth and Tenth for the smaller children.

Think what a boon it will be to you tired mothers to know that your children though out of sight are quite safe at their play.

The little tots playing on the grass or in the sand looked after by a woman who understands them and their needs. Babies in the shade with their older sisters to look after them and compare notes.

That wild young boy of yours just amazed in learning the best way to jump or playing a lively game of ball or trying "stunts" on gymnastic apparatus with a strong kind of athlete to be he comes to no harm.

And your girls engaged in some jolly game of hide-and-seek to a story told by a friendly woman who spends all her time looking after them.

Wouldn't that take many a load off your shoulders?

And you anxious now whenever they are out of sight, wondering where they are in the streets or where?

That is what supervised playground does.

It presents to the child the ideal place to play and the child goes there because it wants to.

And while there it learns to respect the rights of others to play in the proper rules, to help make others happy and so to be a good citizen.

On a date in the near future when the boys are reeled in, you will have an opportunity of seeing definitely if you desire better conditions of not as the expense of improvement must be borne by the city at large and the citizens must say by their ballots if they agree to it or not.

The big question will be not, can we afford this, although it might be pointed out that it means no raise in the tax rate, but would we rather have our boys climbing electric light poles and running the risk of electrocution or climbing a pole provided for that purpose where they run no risk at all or before the juvenile court for throwing a ball at a chum.

Would we sooner have our children playing in the open air at the games they like or lacking a good place to play spending hours in a stuffy theatre running their noses?

These are the question the mothers and fathers must consider and when the opportunity arises give a very decided answer.

To the supervised playground, built, maintained by the city authorities as part of the parks department scheme for bettering our existing living conditions.

Well then why all this talk? Because it rests with you, the mothers and fathers and aunts and uncles and older brothers and sisters of this city to say whether or not such things shall be.

CORRESPONDENCE

(The publishers of the Edmonton Capital again feel it necessary to explain that they take no responsibility for the views in letters sent to the editor. Letters will not be published unless name and address are given for publication.)

DOES NOT LIKE THE CRITICISM OF CLARA BUTT AND RUMFORD

The Editor Daily Capital:

Sir:—Having read with much surprise on the society page of Monday's Journal the unfair and unjust criticism of the concert given by Madame Clara Butt and Mr. K. Rumford, the only conclusion one can draw from the latter sneers and sarcasm contained therein, is that the writer is entirely devoid of the ability to appreciate or criticize an artist of world-wide renown and from the smallness and pettiness of some of the sentences levelled against her personality, one can only judge the writer to be a jealous, disappointed, narrow-minded cynic and one who never should be allowed attempt to be a musical critic.

This article might be appreciated by some patrons of the society page, but to those who were fortunate enough to hear this great, naturally gifted singer, one can only hope that in the future the management of Edmonton Journal will censor such personal and unjust criticism of one who's success does not depend on the opinion of an irresponsible person who is not even naturally gifted with the qualification to appreciate such high-class musical talent and ability.

A Number of Things to Remember
If to a concert you go,
Or any kind of a show,
There are a number of things to note.

Don't voice your opinion,
All round the Dominion,
Or you sure will get somebody's
Lion.

You may write of pink teasers,
And all the main squeakers,
Of all the at-homes and receptions,
But don't ever forget it,
If you do you'll regret it.

We shall never accept your conceptions,

Fur Traders in City.

Fred Fraser, son of Colin Fraser, well known as a trader and trapper of the north, arrived in the city last night with four black fox skins worth about $2,000, accompanied from Pelican Rapids by S. A. Bentley, one of the prominent traders and settlers of the Walden district. Mr. Fraser, who is now outfitting for the season, met his father at Athabasca. The latter took the dogs his son used as far as the Landing back north.

YOUR FRECKLES

Need Attention in February and March or Face Will Stay Covered.

Now is the time to take special care of the complexion if you wish it to look well the rest of the year. The February and March winds have a strong tendency to bring out freckles that may stay all summer unless removed. Now is the time to use ointment—double strength.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Get an ounce of ointment—double strength, and even a few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the smaller freckles even vanishing entirely.

HOTCHKISS STEERS TEXAS FARMERS TO EDMONTON DISTRICT

Some of the farmers around El Paso, Texas, a neighborhood which is just now riddled on the map are about to pull up stakes and come to a place where their hearts will cease from troubling, about greasers, revolutions, insurrections, wars and rumors of wars.

When C. S. Hotchkiss, Alberta's energetic publicity commissioner, was down in the Lone Star state recently showing the people who say "you can't steer us," some things about this province, and winning some more trophies by the way he had a little talk with a man who went to the southwest from St. Thomas, Ont., years ago, when it was the fashion for people to get away from eastern Canada and into the United States as soon as they became old enough to vote.

This man is now coming to the Edmonton district to settle down again, about the greasers, revolutions, insurrections, wars and rumors of wars.

The Canada Gazette contains notice that permission to cut ties for railway purposes at the mouth of the Whitt-Pool river, in the Brazeau district, is recommended by the minister of the Interior for the Northern Construction company.

The tract of unsurveyed land containing 2,500 acres and is estimated to have cut enough timber for 250,000 ties. The regulations provide the issue of permits for ties only where the line under construction runs through a forest reserve. The branch of the C.N.R. for which these ties are needed does not run through a reserve, but from a point on the main line near the edge of the Rocky Mountain forest reserve northward into a district not yet settled.

FIRST THINGS

Feminine Physicians.

The first regular medical college for the education of female physicians was the Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania, which was incorporated 45 years ago today. The first woman authorized to practice medicine in America was Dr. Elizabeth Blackwell, a native of Bristol, England, who studied medicine at Geneva, N.Y., and obtained her M.D. in 1849. With her sister Emily she opened the New York Infirmary for women and children in 1853, organizing in connection with it the Women's Medical College of New York in 1857. Two years later she registered as a physician in England, and after serious objections from the masculine doctors was permitted to practice. Miss Garrett, afterwards Mrs. Anderson, was licensed to practice medicine in London in 1865, and with the assistance of Dr. Blackwell, Prof. Huxley and others opened the School of Medicine for Women in London in 1874, the first institution of its kind in Great Britain. The fair physicians of England were placed on the same legal footing with men by the medical act of 1876. Dr. Mary Walker attended Middlesex Hospital in London, in a modified masculine garb, in 1856.

Will Widen Young Street

Toronto, March 11.—The widening of Young street, between Bloor street and the city limits, at an estimated cost of $2,000,000 was decided upon by the city council last night. At present Young street is 66 feet wide and it is proposed to make the northern portion 88 feet wide.

MADE-IN-EDMONTON IDEA IS URGED BY MERCHANT TAILORS

At a meeting of the merchant tailors of the city held Monday night it was decided by one speaker that if each of the 20,000 men estimated to be in the city purchased a suit and Overcoat made in Edmonton it would mean a turn-over of about $2,000,000 yearly and a payroll of about three quarters of a million.

At this meeting an organization of merchant tailors of the city was effected, with the object of bringing about better trade conditions, including that of inducing Edmontonians to buy all their suits here and keep their money at home.

The members of the new organization comprise the following firms:

Geo. Dickson, J. L. Kinison, J. Lalonde, Joe's Tailoring Co., Ltd., C. A. Reid, Joseph Ormiston, Robinson Tailoring Co., J. L. Tapp & Co., McFarlane Bros., M. Sillars, W. A. Gillis.

The committee elected pro tem is as follows: Geo. Dickson, W. H. Robinson, J. Tapp, Geo. Dickson, acting Secretary.

"SNOWY" BAKER'S AMERICAN FIGHTERS WOULD HAVE EASY TIME IN AUSTRALIA

Recent Defeats of Antipodean Lightweights Shows American Fighters of Better Calibre—Australia Has No "White Hopes."

(By W. W. Naughton.)
San Francisco, March 14.—The fact that Snowy Baker and W. P. Howe are in this country in quest of pugilistic action for the boxing organizations here is an American one in the best sense of the word. The sports down here are great patrons of the game of the glove, and it is to be expected that the true fighting compulsion will find an outlet to offer the money to top-notchers of this country.

Just at present Australia is so fully lacking in suitable talent to send against visiting stars.
Take the lightweight division, for instance. When Hickey, the best here, last year upon Willie Ritchie to the best of the division there, he believed he had several fairly sound matches in sight for the lightweight champion.

"To be sure," said Snowy, "I'll go long against Hickey, because he is a champion of Australia." The words were hardly out of Baker's mouth when the cable brought news that Hickey had been knocked out in 11 rounds by Young Saylor of Philadelphia, who went to Australia in company with Eddie McGoey and Ray Brown.
"Well, I'll have H. H. McGoey left," said Snowy with a brave show of philosophical spirit. "He is a fighting man, and I will have him in a few months." McGoey is a formidable rival. Many in fact believe him a better boy than Hickey. I can also promise Ritchie a bout with Young Saylor who defeated Hickey."

A day or two later news trickled across the best of the ocean that Nat Williams, a comparative unknown from England, had defeated Herb McGoey and that Young Saylor had lost on a foul in the sixth round of a match with Ed Neillman, a pupil of McGoey.
After this wholesale knocking over of the best of the Antipodean lightweight by youngsters in the novice division, it is not easy to imagine where to find a fit opponent for Ritchie among the pugilists at present in Australia. There is this to be, however, one defeat does not set a pugilist aside in that country the way it does here. A man of known ability does not lose on account of a single reverse of a couple for that matter, and the promoters being acquainted with Australian sporting opinion in the direction named do not hesitate about signing a defeated star again without delay.

As a matter of fact return matches are quite a feature of Antipodean pugilism.

McGoey, who was defeated by Pat Brown of Philadelphia at Sydney had to wait no time for his revenge. He turned the tables on Brown at the second meeting. It can therefore be seen that if Hickey goes across there toward the end of the year it will be quite the thing, according to the Australian viewpoint, to parade both McGoey and McGoey as worthy opponents for him. This of course is in the meantime Hickey and Hickey manage to maintain the average of excellence they have displayed during the past couple of years.

Reading between the lines it is not hard to explain how Young Saylor came to lose his bout with Neillman on a foul. Saylor is one of your up-to-date American fighters, while in Australia they are sticklers for "clean breaks."

"Mother," Hickey, who is here representing the Olympia Stadium of New York, Sydney, was quick to note the way our local boys are allowed to fight away at each other in chambers.

"The crowd seems to like that kind of thing here," said Hickey. "Out some of the moment a couple of fighters' bout into a fight the crowd here is shouting to the referee to 'break them'."

Saylor beyond doubt whaled away at the style he was accustomed to here and was probably penalized for not stopping clear when ordered to by the referee.

However it is safe to say that Saylor will make his mark before he leaves Australia. A kid who can knock out McGoey, the first time Hickey was knocked out, by the way, needs only to give a little more to the rules which prevail in Australia to do himself proud.

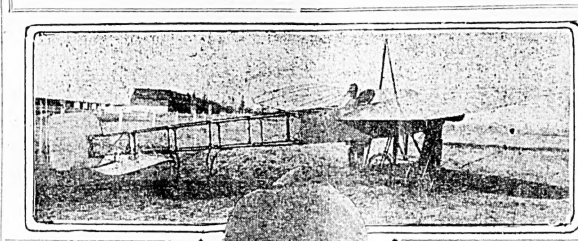

The larger classes in Australia are in more of a middle than the lightweight class. Dave Smith went right down the line from white hope and then heaves to middleweights and moved low and for them among his victims was Bill Long, a 200 pounder, who up to that time was called heavy-weight champion of Australia.

Then Eddie McGoey came along and did for Smith in less than two minutes of boxing. Accordingly McGoey is champion of Australia in several classes at present.

Since visiting Dave Smith the Oklahoma fighter has had a brush with Pat Bradley, a young Irishman who went to Australia from San Francisco. When Dave Smith beat this same Bradley, the punch that he landed, in the eighth round to save Bradley from unnecessary punishment. Yet Bradley was not the only one who was hurt, and merely lost on points, whereas McGoey practically killed Smith with the punch that he landed.

It's a bit of a tangle and I have no doubt it will be straightened out by sending Smith and Bradley together again and then matching the winner with McGoey.

CHARLES F. MILLER

ACTIVITIES OF FEDERAL LEAGUE MEAN TROUBLE

Federal League is Not Playing for Sympathy, but Means to Give Players Fair Treatment

This is an open year for half players.

The attractiveness of the Federal League, called an "outlaw" by organized baseball, says W.A.C.

And, as was shown in 1901, baseball war is an expensive luxury.

The Federal is coming strongly. President James A. Gilmore and Secretary Richard say the league is prepared to spend a fortune to establish itself.

Save in the opinion of organized baseball and the National League, the Federal League is no more of an "outlaw" than any other independent business which makes a trade.

The only law the Federal has violated is that one which organized baseball has created in the complicity. And the public today does not recognize the right of the National Association and their minor associates to make laws for it.

The Federal league will be welcomed by press and public and will be tolerated if it puts up a good fight.

The attack upon the baseball establishment by the baseball David is centered in the valuerate point of the big fellow's armor, the reserve clause—and before the 1914 season opens this fellow's armor, a baseball contract is threatened out in the court to determine whether a baseball contract is worth the paper it is printed upon.

Secretary Richard says the Federal League is not planning a campaign for sympathy, but will seek patronage with good baseball and high-class players.

The way the Federal is raising the stronghold of the enemy is an evidence of good faith in this respect. Leaders like Fisher, Brown, Stival and Axel Hansen will attract the fans, and if they gather the sort of players they are after and play good baseball the fans will be with them.

The Federal, if successful, can force upon baseball a sense of its debt to the public, something few magnates have realized. It can give recognition to young players who have been hitherto forced to seek allegiance with organized baseball and accept whatever terms were offered, and having signed a contract, he sent from team to team, without having a word in the matter.

The only convincing baseball has ever granted the players have been through some other influence and not through sense of equity on the part of the magnates.

With the Federal in the field and outside of the folk, this will cease.

Charles F. Miller, an English aviator, was one of the earliest experimenters of the flying art, and in 1901 built a number of machines that were more or less successful.

Miller is not of the "dare-devil" school of aviators, he holds the altitude record for Great Britain, 11,500 feet, made at Bourne mouth last summer, and has also attempted the flight across the English Channel several seasons.

He is 24 years old and has been a mechanic since the age of 12 years.

TODAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS

1901—Tommy Sullivan defeated Billy Barrett in 5 rounds at Hartford, Conn. Barrett was disqualified.

Sullivan was then a prominent runner-up in the featherweight division, which was headed by Terry McGovern as champion, and included at that time such great little men as Kid Brook, Dave Sullivan, Jack McMillan, Eddie Gardner, Oscar Gardner, Arthur Rice, High McFadden, George Gardner, Billy Smith, Young Corbett and George Dixon.

Dave Sullivan, Billy Smith and Dixon were ex-champions. Later in that year, at Hartford, the title changed hands when Young Corbett defeated McGovern.

Tommy Sullivan who whipped Barrett in the first mentioned Hartford battle, succeeded Young Corbett as champion of the division in 1901, and held the title about four years.

1902—Jack O'Brien defeated Charles McKeever in 6 rounds at Philadelphia, 1913—Billy Eagle knocked out Dave Smith in 7th round at Sydney.

and organized baseball which, if forced, would players more like turn and less the chaff.

The fighters say they have the money they need to fight and that they will fight, not through sympathy, but with the best players money can get.

No one realizes more keenly than these men who are investing their fan in as little as a couple, and that he will remain faithful only while he is not investing in a fan who is not an idol only while he is not an idol.

There is no room for fallen idols on Federal League teams.

Presentation By The EDMONTON CAPITAL

Willis J. Abbot, the versatile writer on International subjects and author of many books of history and travel, spent months in Panama and the Canal Zone in the preparation of this volume. He collected at first hands the complete history of the great Canal, with a wealth of historical data concerning Panama which has never before been written. The result is a human interest story of this beautiful land and its people from the early days when Columbus tried to find a natural waterway from the Atlantic to the Pacific, down to the present time.

Special staff photographers made the hundreds of beautiful views which illustrate practically every page of this exhaustive book.

The well-known artist, E. J. Read, made the sixteen sumptuous water-color studies which are reproduced by the latest color processes on specially made paper.

The Panama Canal, the greatest engineering achievement of the world's history, cost more than $400,000,000

It links the two greatest oceans, and becomes the most important factor in peace and war. So where is the red-blooded inhabitant of this globe that does not feel vitally interested in it? Truly it is the wonder of this progressive age!

A BY-LAW FOR THE DIMINUTION OF HEART-ACHES

In the annual report of the children's shelter it is set out that 444 juveniles who, for one reason or another, required protection or direction passed through the hands of that institution in 1913.

This showing, while it is a tribute to the usefulness and the good work being done by the Children's Aid, must also indicate to those who give such matters thought that there is a constantly-growing necessity for a better environment in this city for a much larger number of children than actually came into the hands of the institution.

The Children's Aid is the modern application of that all-embracing charity which presumes that what is called crime in children is merely mis-directed energy, and that the cure is not the cruelty of prisons and the lash, but a better environment in which the child has the opportunity to develop along normal lines.

Play is the part in nature's scheme which provides the children with the proper outlet for their energies and the opportunities for physical and mental development. But as the city grows and the surface of the earth becomes covered with buildings or fenced off against trespass, the opportunities for play are circumscribed. Everyone who has lived in a large city is familiar with the handicap under which the city boy grows, as compared with the village youth or the country lad. The sand lot turns out ball players and freckled-faced scrappers, who pound for pound, can rip the cover off the asphalt product of any city in the universe and who keep continually coming to town and doing it in politics, industry, science and art.

If, therefore, the children of the city are to have the opportunity to develop as they should, they must have plenty of room to play and the facilities and equipment necessary to healthy, natural exercise. This is what the bylaws providing for expenditures on parks and playgrounds, upon which the ratepayers are asked to vote on April 6, propose to provide. There is provision for a public swimming bath to take the place of the old swimming hole in which you used to splash around when a boy. Public parks which are now merely vacant lots are to be equipped with swings, sand piles and all the paraphernalia necessary to childish enjoyment, and supervisors will be on hand to see that the enjoyment is as complete as possible.

The cost of the whole thing is a trifle, being only a fraction of the half mill levied to cover parks development. But in the sane consideration of such a matter the cost cannot be allowed to be the determining factor, because there is a credit balance which cannot be computed in dollars and cents. With proper playgrounds provided there will be proportionately less for the Children's Aid to attend to and a consequent diminution of heart-aches and mother-woes. Without playgrounds, the 444 who passed through the hands of the Children's Aid last year must be accepted as merely a manifestation of what is certain to come.

To defeat the playgrounds bylaw, as is being seriously urged in some quarters, would be heartless and callous brutality.

ADDING THE ROLE OF KNOCKER TO ITS REPORTORIE

"Calgary has sold an issue of debentures at 96 net. Edmonton obtained 94.11 for the unsold debentures on hand from last year. The interest rate in each case is five per cent. which means that something more than five has to be paid for the money actually received. These are not temporary loans, but long-term debenture issues. While prices for issues of this character are no better, the prudent course will be to borrow only what cannot be done without."

The foregoing from the Bulletin is untrue, and the Bulletin is fully aware of its untruth when it publishes the statement, as the same statement, made previously by the Bulletin, has already been corrected by no less an authority than the city treasurer.

Calgary sold $2,243,117 at 93½. Adding the accrued interest, the aggregate (not the net) amounted to 96.

Edmonton sold $2,000,000 at 94.11. Adding the accrued interest, as in the Calgary case, the aggregate amounted to 98½.

In either way of figuring, Edmonton got a higher price.

The Bulletin has absolute knowledge of this. But in its desire to prejudice the public mind in the hope that the bylaws will be defeated, it is willing to add to its achievements as a brazen liar the role of knocker as well.

A newspaper which, in the hope that it may embarrass men in office whom it does not like, is willing to slander the credit of its own city and which would cheerfully tie up its public works, is not entitled to much respect at the hands of the citizens.

FACTS GOOD ENOUGH FOR EDMONTON'S ADVERTISEMENT

As an evidence of the advantages which Edmonton enjoys climatically, it is interesting to note that the building season has already opened and building has been active in several sections of the city for the past week or ten days.

There are many cities hundreds of miles farther south than Edmonton in which building operations will not start for a number of weeks yet, and in which a March opening of the building season was never heard of.

The explanation, of course, does not require to be made to Edmontonians. They have heard all about Asiatic currents, isothermal line and the entire philosophy of the weather. But as an advertisement of Edmonton's attractiveness, it is complete corroboration of the oft-repeated epigram that the facts are good enough.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

Jewish Festival of Purim, the Hebrew Carnival, Begins Tonight

With the setting of the sun tonight the Jews of the world will begin the celebration of the festival of Purim, which has been called "the Hebrew Carnival" because of the carnival spirit which marks its observance. Purim falls on the fourteenth of the month Adar, which corresponds to the year to the twelfth of March. As the Jewish people count days from sunset to sunset, however, Purim commences this evening.

Purim, of the Festival of Lots, was instituted by David and commemorates the deliverance of the Jews from the destruction with which they were threatened by Haman. It is a day of joy and gladness and in some Jewish centers of population it is marked by masquerading, processions, the lighting of bonfires, the burning of Haman in effigy, the singing of comic songs and other manifestations of the carnival spirit.

Haman, who was hanged so high that he gained a permanent place in history, was a favorite of King Ahasuerus of Persia. He was a villain of the deepest dye, and in order to revenge himself on Mordecai the Jew, he plotted the extermination of all the Jews in the kingdom. He was thwarted by Esther, who risked her life to save the monarch, and wrought his own ruin and the upbuilding of the Jews. The story is told in the book of Esther, and it is so remarkable for its dramatic unity and in the perfect cast of characters presented as to be comparable to a Shakespearean play. Its dramatic qualities are such that many Jewish critics have refused to believe that it is a record of real history and attribute it to some early playwright.

Many Jewish writers have accepted the view of the book of Esther, for the reason that the author makes no mention of the name of Jehovah. In Purim, as a festival, is alleged by some to be an outgrowth of a more ancient Babylonian celebration, which in turn was based on an old Egyptian myth. In this respect it resembles most Christian festivals, which had their origin in paganism. Mordecai himself instituted the observance of Purim, according to the Talmud, by the reading of the book of Esther in the synagogue. This custom is still followed, and this evening and again tomorrow morning the wonderful story of Esther will be read from a written scroll called Megillah. In synagogues all over the world, the recital is a solemn and impressive ceremony and vast crowds always gather to hear the mitzvah of the great cantors. In old times and even today in some of the more remote Jewish centers, during the reading of the story, with shrill hissing by the audience at every mention of Haman's name.

The interchange of gifts and the sending of food and money to the poor is a Purim custom. Long ago it became customary to make collection in the synagogues in aid of the needy. The poorest Jew, even one who was himself dependent upon charity, was supposed to give something to some Jew even more impoverished than himself.

After the formal ceremonial in the synagogues the observance of Purim now takes on a social and convivial nature. That Israel's enemies are always in the end defeated and punished, and that the Jewish people are capable of surviving all plots and persecutions, are the lessons derived from Purim. The festival is a favorite with the Jews, and as early as the third century Rabbi Joshua ben Levi prescribed compulsory attendance at Purim services for all Jews, because it was a woman, Queen Esther, through whom the wonderful deliverance of the Jews was accomplished.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

Cipriani, Italian Rebel, Begins 70th Year Today. Amilcare Cipriani, the fire-eating Italian revolutionist and veteran of Garibaldi's army, will begin his seventieth years today, having been born in old Himint on March 31, 1845. No hero of a Richard Harding Davis novel ever had so many hairbreadth escapes as Cipriani, who has served many terms in prison, has been twice condemned to death, and is now an exile from his native land. A few weeks ago he was elected to the Italian chamber of deputies by a Milan constituency, but the decree of banishment will prevent him from taking his seat, as it has on eight previous occasions when Italian socialists have chosen Cipriani as their representative at Rome. Cipriani has been described in some of the press dispatches as an anarchist, but this is an error, as he is a disciple of the Marxian philosophy. In his latter years, spent principally in France, he has been a student, and he has come to believe that education, rather than war and violence, will save the world.

Cipriani was a lad of 14 when he began his adventurous career, enlisting as a soldier in the army that defeated Italy against the Austrian invasion. He took part in the battles of Magenta and Solferino, when the Austrians were defeated. When the peace pact, at which Italy was damaged, was signed at Villafranca, and Garibaldi exhorted the Italians to arms, Cipriani deserted and joined Garibaldi's "Naples." He was with the leader of the red-shirted army when Garibaldi met Victor Emmanuel and said, "King of Italy," and he heard that monarch's reply, "I thank you." Cipriani followed the fortunes of Garibaldi in his campaign for "Rome or death," until the leader was wounded and taken prisoner at Aspromonte in August, 1862. It was then that Cipriani heard for the first time the sentence of death passed upon him. "The lad escaped, and for several years lived the life of a wandering outcast in Crete, Egypt and Greece."

Cipriani next appeared upon the revolutionary stage was in France, where he landed in 1868. He was active as a leader of the republicans in those wild days when barricades were erected in the streets of Paris and riots were of daily occurrence. When a price was placed upon his head, Cipriani

Joins Quit Aching; Nervine Drives Soreness Away

NO MORE STIFFNESS, PAIN OR MISERY IN YOUR BACK OR SIDE OR LIMBS

Wonderful "Nervine" is the Remedy for all cases of Catarrh of the Bladder.

A marvelous pain reliever. Not an ordinary liniment—just about five times more powerful, more penetrating, more pain-susiding than any thick, oily or ammonia liniment. Nervine fairly eats up the pain and soothes in chronic rheumatic joints, gives quick relief to those throbbing pains, and never burns or even stains the skin.

"Rheumatism kept my joints swollen and sore for ten years. My right knee joint was often too painful to allow me to walk. In this crippled condition I found Nervine a blessing. Its warm, stimulating action brought relief I had given up hoping for. I rubbed on quantities of Nervine, and improved steadily. I also took Ferronase at meal time in order to purify and enrich my blood. I am today well and can recommend my treatment most conscientiously." (Signed) C. PARKS, Prince Albert.

Not an ache or pain in the muscles or joints that Nervine won't cure. It's wonderful for humpback and sciatica; for neuralgia, stiff neck, earache and toothache. Nervine is simply a wonder. Best family liniment known and largely used for the past forty years. Sold by dealers everywhere, large family size bottle 50c, small trial size 25c. Refuse a substitute, take only "Nervine."

and sought refuge for a time in England, but returned to Paris during the siege and fought as a soldier. Later he affiliated himself with the commune of Paris. When the communist organization was overthrown he was arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced to death. A commutation was granted, however, and he was sent to the terrible penal settlement of New Caledonia, where he soon led a revolt of the convicts.

In 1873 Cipriani was released and returned to Paris, where he joined the staff of the newspaper Le Citoyen and bitterly attacked the government. After a short time in prison he was expelled from France, and, in disguise, returned to Italy to visit his aged father. He was recognized, arrested, and convicted of desertion from the army. Again he found himself behind prison walls, and while there he was first elected to parliament by the socialists. He was pardoned after a few months, but his revolutionary utterances soon got him into trouble again, and he served another prison term of two years.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY

A storm of impassioned oratory swept over the house of commons 25 years ago today, beginning with the introduction of Mr. Laurier's famous resolution asking the house to express regret that the sentence of death passed upon Louis Riel was permitted to be carried into execution.

Mr. Laurier, a conservative, did not mince words in condemning the government for the death of Riel, which he called a breach of the laws of justice and humanity, the gratification of a desire for vengeance, and the heartless and wanton sacrifice of a French-Canadian Catholic upon the altar of sectarian hatred and bigotry." He quoted the statement of the French Conservative Journal, "Le Monde: Fanaticism wants a victim; Riel has been offered as a holocaust; and Orangemen has hanged him for hate and to satisfy an old thirst for revenge." Other speakers followed with similar fierce denunciation. Mr. Wilfrid Laurier, in a speech remarkable for its fine oratorical qualities, described Riel's execution as "the sacrifice of a life, not to inescapable justice, but to bitter passion and revenge." Sir Hector Langevin and Sir Adolphe Caron, the French members of the dominion government, also presented the case for the military. Mr. Blake's address was a noteworthy effort, abounding in clear reasoning and vigorous denunciation. J. S. B. Thompson, of Nova Scotia, who had just entered the government as minister of justice, gave by far the best exposition of the ministry's attitude toward the question at issue. His speech was a masterly effort, and was doubtless largely responsible for the retention of one of the most wonderful of the French element of the conservative party. When the lurid storm of passion, one of the most wonderful in Canadian political annals, had subsided, the government found itself with a majority of 146 to 42.

The threatening fog of Riel was expelled, and other questions and issues soon followed. The attention of the dominion parliament.

LATEST POPULAR SONG

Odd Love Ballad Expressing Sentiment of Feminine Fidelity.

A new song in which lovers, single or wedded, make the appeal of loyalty, the latest New York hit. The song, which is entitled, "Would You Take Me Back Again?" is a sentimental affair, quite prettily written, with a waltz chorus in the order of the previous ballads, "Mine!" "Why Did You Make Me Care?" and other love songs. Following is a portion of the chorus:

WOULD YOU TAKE ME BACK AGAIN?

CHORUS. BY ALFRED SOLMAN

If you know how much I've loved you—

Would you take me back a—gain?—

How much I've loved you—

Would you take me back a—gain?—

If you know how much I've loved you—

Would you take me back a—gain?—

The song is written in only one octave with a number of odd harmonies that seem to particularly appeal to the ear.

brown chamois satin, while Mrs. Jones chose rose crepe de chine.

French baskets of pink, lilywhite hung from the electric light cases, and clusters of the same fragrant flowers were used in decorating the drawing room, while in the dining room the pretty tea table was centered with a large cluster of variegated pink daffodils, and roses of various shades.

Presiding were Mrs. Bulyea, who poured the tea, and Mrs. Charles Violette, who presided by Mrs. George Durand, Mrs. A. Jarvis and Mrs. Grace.

The callers numbered more than 100.

The Cinders given by Maple Leaf Encampment No. 1, I.O.O.F., in the Empire Auditorium attracted a pretty throng of Odd Fellows and their friends as usual and a good dance programme only for some came to a close.

The committee in charge of arrangements were Messrs. Tinsley, Crawford, C. Cusick, Eager, Mr. Ramsey and Mr. Healey.

Among the dancers were Mr. and Mrs. Orchard, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Blevett, Mr. and Mrs. McCop, Mrs. Cummings, Mrs. Summers, Mr. and Mrs. McCormack, Mr. and Mrs. Purdy, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Douglas, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Olmstead, Mr. and Mrs. H. AT PANTAGES TELLS AMUSING ANECDOTE

Jan. O. Barrow, who plays the role of The Jollier the delightful little sketch which has been amusing Pantages patrons so this week relates the following anecdote.

There was a most persistent actor who insisted upon applying to the manager of a well-known metropolitan theater for a job always receiving as a reply that he must see his stage manager who attended to this work.

Finally the dilapidated stranger contrived to gain access to the stage manager, who was busy assisting the musical leader in singing up candidates for the chorus. But this did not prevent him, between songs from interrupting the stage manager with requests for a job. The director at length became exasperated. Turning to the pianist, he directed him to play an accompaniment for the seedy-looking applicant while he waited.

What does this all mean? he demanded. "You're certainly not lacking in nerve to ask me for a job. You a singer?"

At the same instant himself displayed and sang "See here!" he exclaimed. "I don't sing! I don't want to try to sing! I am a stage carpenter. I was only singing to please you. You insisted upon it!"

AUDIENCES WITH SONG

Bill Pruitt, whose songs have contributed much toward the pleasure of audiences at the Empire theater the first half of this week, where the Montana cowboy has been singing the Orpheum vaudeville bill, is a real honest-to-goodness cowboy. Bill has been in vaudeville only eight weeks, but he would not be there today if it were not for the fact that he took his cowboy band of eight pieces to Chicago and Minneapolis and while in the former city serenaded one Andrew Dippel, grand opera conductor for excellence and temperamental impetuosity in two or three different nations and languages.

Bill is generally known as a band singer, he having gained somewhat of a reputation among the ranchers of Montana, when he was in the saddle at a ranch there. Bill thought it would be a good idea to organize a band and among the cowboys on his ranch. The cowboys were agreeable although they knew no more about music than a horse fly knows about horse radish.

However, the bunchers, 12 in number rehearsed night and day. Their musical efforts were successful to the extent of driving all the coyotes off the ranch, and Bill was delighted. Bill's practice eventually resulted in a first-class musical organization, small in size but sure, but large in tone volume.

Sure Way to Regain Robust Bloom of Youth

A smooth, velvety soft skin, with a delicate peach-like bloom, is one of the Creator's most exquisite works. When the first blush of youth is over, this beautiful tint and satiny texture are rarely seen. How to preserve them—that's the question. Famous beauty experts also have known that ordinary mercerized wash will convert a faded, freckled, worn-out skin into a smooth, soft, and satiny texture. How to give a new surface to the skin, restoring that marvelous youth and softness in a remarkable manner. An ounce of this will, procurable at any drug-store, will convert a faded, freckled, worn-out or discolored complexion into one of captivating loveliness in less than two weeks. No special skill is necessary. This tonic will, if used as directed, at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

To remove wrinkles, or delay their formation, a face may be done with a fine, powdered astringent in 1-2 p. which will, if used as directed, at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

$25,000 for Play for Children

To have made such an announcement a few years ago would have caused people to laugh in astonishment and yet such is the round figure the sum which the city of Edmonton proposes to spend this year.

Let us analyze this statement and see what it means.

Well, briefly it means that the necessity of providing proper facilities for play is now recognized a definite means of improving the quality of citizenship.

It means that this year the intention is to improve some of the city's waste property so that it will become the regular playground for the children, keeping them in the open, off the streets, and under proper supervision.

What is a playground?

Merely a place where children or adults or both like to go to play their games and which do you think they would go to if given the choice between an unimproved rough piece of ground and a smooth surfaced playground?

The streets are no place for children to play you will often hear said.

True but if you wanted to play marbles would you go on a rough vacant lot or use the sidewalk?

That is the crux of the situation and in taking steps to provide facilities and supervision, Edmonton is merely falling in line with 500 odd other cities on the continent where playgrounds are in operation.

What do we get for the expenditure?

We get four playgrounds for children up to 15 and two athletic fields for the young athletes.

These playgrounds will be situated one at the corner of Synchuate and Hoyle, one at the corner of Synchuate and Gallagher and one at the corner of First av. and south and Fifth street west. All of them of large size, capable of accommodating large groups of children at all kinds of games and a smaller playground at the corner of Fourteenth and Trace for the smaller children.

Think what a boon it will be to you tired mothers to know that your children thought out of sight are quite safe at their play.

The little tots playing on the grass or in the sand looked after by a woman who understands them and their needs, babies in the shade with their older sisters to look after them and compare notes.

That wild young boy of yours busily engaged in learning the best way to jump or playing a lively game of ball or trying "stunts" on the apparatus with a strong kindly athlete to see he comes to no harm.

And your girls engaged in some jolly game or listening to a story told by a friendly woman who spends all her time looking after them.

Wouldn't that take many a load off your shoulders?

Isn't you anxious now whenever they are out of sight, wondering if they are on the streets or where?

That is what supervised playground does.

It presents to the child the ideal place to play and the child goes there because it wants to.

And while there it learns to respect the rights of others, to play to the proper rules, to help make others happy and so to be a good citizen.

On a date in the near future when the bylaws are voted upon, you will have an opportunity of saying definitely if you desire better conditions or not as the expense of improvement must be borne by the city at large and the citizens must say by their ballots if they agree to it or not.

The big question will be not, can we afford this, although it might be pointed out that it means no raises in the tax rate, but would we rather have our boys climbing electric light poles and running the risk of electrocution or climbing a pole provided for that purpose where they run no risk at all or before the juvenile court for throwing stones at automobiles or throwing a ball at a chum. Would we scower have our children playing in the open air at the games they like or lacking a good place to play spending hours in a stuffy theater running their eyes out?

These are the questions the mothers and fathers must consider and when the opportunity arises give a very decided answer.

To the supervised playground, built, maintained by the city authorities as part of the parks department scheme for bettering our existing living conditions.

Well then why all this talk?

Because it rests with you, the mothers and fathers and aunts and uncles and older brothers and sisters of this city to say whether or not such things shall be.

CORRESPONDENCE

(The publishers of the Edmonton Capital again feel it necessary to explain that they take no responsibility for the views in letters sent to the editor. Letters will not be published unless name and address are given for publication).

DOES NOT LIKE THE CRITICISM OF CLARA BUTT AND RUMFORD

The Editor Daily Capital:

Sir:—Having read with much surprise on the society page of Monday's Journal the unfair and unjust criticism of the concert given by Madame Clara Butt and Mr. K. Rumford, the only conclusion one can draw from the latter sneers and sarcasm contained therein, is that the writer is entirely devoid of the ability to appreciate or criticize an artist of world-wide renown and from the smallness and pettiness of some of the sentences leveled against these personalities, one can only judge the writer to be a jealous, disappointed, narrow-minded cynic and one who never should be allowed attempt to be a musical critic.

This article might be appreciated by some patrons of the society page, but to those who were fortunate enough to hear this great naturally gifted singer, one can only hope that in the future the management of Edmonton Journal will censorize such personal and unjust criticism of one who's success does not depend on the opinions of an irresponsible person who is not even naturally gifted with the qualification to appreciate such high-class musical talent and ability.

A Number of Things to Remember If to a concert you go.

Or any kind of a show.

There are a number of things to note.

Don't voice your opinion.

All round the Dominion.

Or you sure will get somebody's "goat."

You may voice of pink teases.

And all the main queases.

Of all the at-homes and receptions.

But don't ever forget it.

If you do you'll regret it.

We shall never accept your conceptions.

Fur Traders in City.

Fred Fraser, son of Colin Fraser, well known as a trader and trapper of the north, arrived in the city last night with four black fox skins, worth about $3,000, accompanied from Pelican rapids by S. A. Bentley, one of the prominent traders and settlers of the Wallack district. Mr. Fraser, who is now outfitting for the season, met his father at Athabasca. The latter took the dogs his son used as far as the landing back north.

YOUR FRECKLES

Need Attention in February and March or Face Will Stay Covered.

Now is the time to take special care of the complexion if you wish it to look well the rest of the year. The February and March winds have a strong tendency to bring out freckles that may stay all Summer unless removed. Now is the time to use ointment—double strength.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Get an ounce of ointment—double strength, and even a few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the smaller freckles even vanishing entirely.

HOTCHKISS STEERS TEXAS FARMERS TO EDMONTON DISTRICT

Some of the farmers around El Paso, Texas, a neighborhood which is just now strictly on the map, are about to pull up stakes and come to a place where their hearts will cease from troubling about grainers, revolution, insurrections, wars and rumors of wars.

When C. S. Hotchkiss, Alberta's energetic publicity commissioner, was down in the Lone Star state recently showing the people who say "you can't steer us," some things about the province, and winning some more troubles by the way, he had a little talk with a man who went to the southwest from St. Thomas, Ont., years ago, when it was the fashion for people to get away from eastern Canada and into the United States as soon as they became old enough to vote.

This man is now coming to the Edmonton district to settle down again under the Union Jack and is bringing with him as a starter ten other Texan farmers. Some work!

Tie Permit Recommended.

The Canada Gazette contains notice that permission to cut ties for railway purposes at the mouth of the Whirlpool river, in the Brasau district, is recommended by the minister of the interior for the Northern Construction company.

The tract of unsurveyed land contains 2,500 acres and is estimated to have on it enough timber for 250,000 ties. The regulations provide the issue of permits for ties only where the line under construction runs through a forest reserve. The branch of the C.N.R. for which these ties are needed does not run through a reserve, but from a point on the main line near the edge of the Rocky Mountain forest reserve northward into a district not yet settled.

FIRST THINGS

Feminine Physicians.

The first regular medical college for the education of female physicians was the Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania, which was incorporated 74 years ago today. The first woman authorized to practice medicine in America was Dr. Elizabeth Blackwell, a native of Bristol, England, who studied medicine at Geneva, N.Y., and obtained degree of M.D. in 1850. With her sister Emily she opened the New York Infirmary for women and children in 1849, organizing in connection with it the Women's Medical College of New York in 1857. Two years later she registered as a physician in England, and after serious objections from the masculine doctors was permitted to practice. Miss Garrett, afterwards Mrs. Anderson, was licensed to practice medicine in London in 1865, and with the assistance of Dr. Blackwell, Prof. Huxley and others opened the School of Medicine for Women in London in 1874, the first institution of its kind in Great Britain. The fair physicians of England were placed on the same legal footing with men by the medical act of 1876. Dr. Mary Walker attended Middlesex Hospital in London, in a modified masculine garb, in 1866.

Will Widen Youngs Street

Toronto, March 11.—The widening of Youngs street, between Bloor street and the city limits, at its estimated cost of $2,000,000 was decided upon by the city council last night. At present Youngs street is 66 feet wide and it is proposed to make the northern portion 80 feet wide.

This weather promotes Coughs

Those who have trouble in shaking off a cough should note that Mather's Syrup of Tar and Cod Liver Oil not only soothes the irritation of the bronchial tubes, and promptly stops the cough, but being a splendid tonic and healer it soon enables the system to permanently throw off the cold and restores the mucous membranes to their normal healthy condition.

Mather's Syrup of Tar and Cod Liver Oil has won, by its merit, the largest sale in Canada of any medicine for coughs—see large bottle, sold everywhere.

MOTHER! GIVE CROSS SICK CHILD ONLY "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

If peevish, feverish, tongue coated, give "fruit laxative" at once.

No matter what ails your child a laxative should be the first treatment given.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign your "little one's" stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in just a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again.

"Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless fruit laxative. Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow."

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

MADE-IN-EDMONTON IDEA IS URGED BY MERCHANT TAILORS

At a meeting of the merchant tailors of the city held Monday night it was stated by one speaker that if each of the 20,000 men estimated to be in the city purchased a suit and overcoat made in Edmonton it would mean a turn-over of about $2,000,000 yearly and a payroll of about three quarters of a million.

At this meeting an organization of merchant tailors of the city was effected, with the object of bringing about better trade conditions, including that of inducing Edmontonians to buy all their suits here and keep their money at home.

The members of the new organization comprise the following firms: Geo. Dickson, J. L. Fournier, J. Liddle, Joe's Tailoring Co., Ltd., C. A. Heid, Joseph Orman, Robinson Tailoring Co., J. L. Tapp & Co., McFarlane Bros., M. Sillars, W. A. Gillis.

The committee elected pro tem is as follows: Geo. Dickson, W. H. Robinson, J. Tapp, Geo. Dickson, acting Secretary.

G. W. Jochy, manager of the George A. Fuller company, of Winnipeg, the firm which has the contract for the erection of the Arts building, of the University of Alberta, is in the city. Lashes For Beating Wife Brantford, March 11.—Miss O'Neill, a Russian Pole, was yesterday given ten days and ten lashes for beating her wife. He knocked a five-months-old babe out of her arms on to the floor and ill-treated his woman very badly.

TELEPHONE OPERATOR IS SEVERELY INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE MISHAP

Miss Lily Trundle, telephone operator at the Cecil hotel, is lying in the general hospital suffering from concussion of the brain as the result of a collision between a street car and an automobile in which she was riding. The accident took place on Nanaimo avenue last night, and the machine, which was driven by E. K. Wood, was completely wrecked. Injured at the hospital this morning elicited the information that she was as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

Edmonton's health department has been a "clean-up campaign" embracing the entire city.

Those who have trouble in shaking off a cough should note that Mather's Syrup of Tar and Cod Liver Oil not only soothes the irritation of the bronchial tubes, and promptly stops the cough, but being a splendid tonic and healer it soon enables the system to permanently throw off the cold and restores the mucous membranes to their normal healthy condition.

Mather's Syrup of Tar and Cod Liver Oil has won, by its merit, the largest sale in Canada of any medicine for coughs—see large bottle, sold everywhere.

MONARCHS AND KENORA MEET

"SNOWY" BAKER'S AMERICAN FIGHTERS WOULD HAVE EASY TIME IN AUSTRALIA

Recent Defeats of Antipodean Lightweight Shows American Fighters of Better Calibre—Australia Has No "White Hopes."

(By W. W. Naughton.)

San Francisco, March 11.—The fact that Snowy Baker and W. F. Howe are in this country in quest of publicity for the boxing organizations they represent in Australia is the best proof that the sports down under are about as far from the game of the elite as it is to wonder how the true boxing commissions would be able to offer big money to top fighters of the country.

Just at present Australia is woefully lacking in suitable talent to meet recent visiting stars. Take the lightweight division, for instance. When Baker arrived here last night upon being lured to the head of the Golden Gloves, he believed he had several fairly suitable match-ups. To him, with a solid record of 17 fights against Hinkle McGeary, the recognized champion of Australia. The words were hardly out of Baker's mouth when the cable brought news that McGeary had been knocked out in 11 rounds by Young Saylor in company with Eddie McGeary and Ray Thompson.

Well, I still have Herb McVey left," said Snowy with a brave show of philosophical spirit. "He is a rising young lightweight, and is certainly a formidable rival. Many in fact believe him a better buy than McGeary. I can also promise Hinkle a bout with Young Saylor who defeated McGeary."

A day or two later news trickled across the land of the antipodes that Williams, a comparative unknown from England, had defeated Herb McVey and that Young Saylor had lost on a foot in the sixth round of a match with Ed Neuhaus, a pupil of McGeary.

After this wholesale howling over the loss of the Antipodean lightweight by youngsters in the novice division, it is not easy to imagine where to find a fit opponent for Hinkle among the pugilists at present in Australia. There is this to it, however, one defeat does not set a ringman aside in that country the way it does here. A man of known ability does not lose caste or become a single reverse or a couple for that matter—and the promoters being acquainted with Australian sporting spirit in the direction named do not hesitate about signing a defeated star again without delay.

As a matter of fact return matches are quite a feature of Antipodean pugilism.

McGeary, who was defeated by Ed Brown of Philadelphia at Sydney had to wait no time for his revenge. He turned the tables on Brown at the second meeting. It can therefore be seen that if Hinkle goes across there toward the end of the year, it will be quite the thing, according to the Australian viewpoint, to parade both McGeary and McVey as worthy opponents for him. Talk of course if in the meantime Herb and Hinkle manage to maintain the average of excellence they have displayed during the past couple of years.

Reading between the lines it is not hard to explain how Young Saylor came to lose his bout with Neuhaus on a foot. Saylor is one of your up-to-date American fighters, while in Australia they are sticklers for "clean breaks."

"Mother" Howe, who is here representing the Olympia Stadium of New York, Sydney was quick to note the way our local boys are allowed to treat away at each other in clinches.

"The crowd seems to like that kind of thing here," said Howe. "Out you get the moment a couple of fighters jump into a clinch, the crowd begins shouting to the referee to 'break them.'"

Saylor beyond doubt would avoid any

(the style he was accustomed to here and was probably penalized for not stripping clear when ordered to by the referee.)

However, it is safe to say that Saylor will make his mark before he leaves Australia. A bull who can knock out a champion—the first time Hinkle was knocked out, by the way—needs only to give a little study to the rules which boxing commissions named in Australia to do himself proud.

The upper classes in Australia are in more of a muddle than the lightweights even. Dave Smith went right down the line from white hopes and light heavies to middleweights and proved too good for them all among his victims was Bill Lang, a 200 pounder, who up to that time was called heavy weight champion of Australia.

Then Eddie McGeary came along and did for Smith in less than two minutes of boxing. Accordingly McGeary is champion of Australia in several divisions at present.

Since ousting Dave Smith the Okech fighter has had a brush with Pat Ireland, a young Irishman who went to Australia from San Francisco. When Dave Smith boxed this same Bradley, Ireland stepped the match in the twelfth round to save Bradley from any necessary punishment. Yet Ireland went the full distance with McGeary and merely lost on points, whereas McGeary practically licked Smith with the punch that he landed.

It's a bit of a tangle and I have no doubt it will be straightened out by sending Smith and Bradley together again and then matching the winner with McGeary.

VANCOUVER AND CALGARY LACROSSE GAMES ARRANGED

Vancouver, March 11.—P. J. Jolly, of Canada, one of the trustees of the D. D. Mann Gold cup, which represents the amateur lacrosse championship of Canada arrived in the city last night, and at a conference this morning with W. Clarke, president of the Vancouver Athletic Club, arranged to have the first of the cup games, the challenges for which were filed last season too late for consideration.

The first series between the Calgary team, champions of Alberta and the V. A. C. will be played on May 22 and 30. If the V. A. C. wins they will meet Thompson, champions of the Ontario branch association on June 21 and July 1.

The selection of a referee for both series was left to the trustees.

BOXING BOUTS TO BE

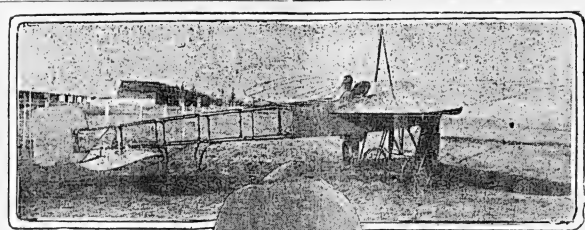

There are busy nights with the local boxers in preparation for their bouts in the Empire auditorium on Tuesday, March 13th. There are a number of Spaulde boxers on the way to the city for the tournament and the evening's program has been labeled, Spaulde A.A.C. vs. Venice A.C.

There are to be three six-round bouts and three four-round bouts and a couple of preliminaries, so from all accounts a large and well-attended crowd will do the thing on Tuesday. Tickets are now on sale at the Yale hotel and at the Venice club.

The annual general meeting of the Wanderers Cricket club will be held in the office of L. Aron, suite 301 C.P.R. building, Friday at 8 p.m. The officers for the year will be elected, and other matters of important business attended to.

ACTIVITIES OF FEDERAL LEAGUE MEAN TROUBLE

Federal League is Not Playing for Sympathy, but Means to Give Players Fair Treatment

This is an open year for ball players.

The aggressiveness of the Federal League, called an "outlaw" by organized baseball, spells W-A-H! And, as was shown in 1901, baseball war is an expensive luxury. The Federal is coming strongly. President James A. Gilmore and Secretary Robert say the league is prepared to spend a fortune to establish itself.

Save in the opinion of organized baseball and its hirings, the Federal league is no more of an "outlaw" than any other independent business which flouts a trust.

The only law the Federal has violated is that one which organized baseball has created in its complacency. And the public today does not recognize the right of the National American and their minor associates to make laws for it.

The Federal league will be welcomed by press and public and will be patronized if it puts up a good fight. The attack upon the baseball faith by the baseball David is centered in the vulnerable point of the big league's arm—the reserve clause—and before the 1914 season opens this will be thrashed out in the court to determine whether a baseball contract worth the paper it is printed upon.

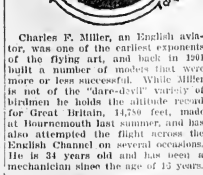

Sympathy likens the Federal league is not planning a campaign for sympathy, but will seek patronage with good baseball and high-class players.

The way the Federal is raiding the stronghold of the enemy is an evidence of good faith in this respect. Leaders like Tinker, Brown, Stovall and Ned Hanlon will attract the fans and if they gather the sort of play good baseball the fans will be with them.

The Federals if successful, can force upon baseball a sense of its debt to the public, something few magnates have realized. It can give recognition to young players who have heretofore been forced to seek allegiance with organized baseball and accept whatever terms were offered, and having signed a contract, he sent from town to town, without having a word in the matter.

The only concessions baseball has ever granted the players have been granted as the result of public opinion or some other influence and not through a sense of equity upon the part of the magnate.

With the Federals in the field and outside of the fold, this will cease

TODAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS

1901—Tommy Sullivan defeated Billy Barrett in 5 rounds at Hartford, Conn. Barrett was disqualified. Sullivan was then a prominent runner-up in the featherweight division, which was headed by Terry McEwens as champion, and included at that time such great little men as Kid Broad, Dave Sullivan, Jack McMillan, Eddie Gardner, Oscar Gardner, Arthur Rice, High McMillan, George Gardner, Billy Smith, Young Corbett and George Dixon. Dave Sullivan, Billy Smith and Dixon were ex-champions. Later in that year, at Hartford, the title changed hands when Young Corbett defeated McEwens. Tommy Sullivan who shipped Barrett in the first round of the first fight, succeeded Young Corbett as champion of the division in 1901, and held the title about four years.

1902—Jack O'Brien defeated Charlie McKeever in 6 rounds at Philadelphia.

and organized baseball will, if forced, treat players more like men and less like chattels.

The invaders say they have the money they need to fight and that they will fight, not through sympathy, but with the best players money can get, with men able to "deliver the goods."

No one realizes more keenly than these men who are investing that the fan is as foolish as a coquette, and that he will remain faithful only while the baseball is deserving of patronage. To the fan an idol is an idol only while he "is there"; and there is no room for fallen idols on Federal league teams.

BRITISH RUGBY TEAM ELECTS ITS OFFICERS 1914

Barbarian Team Will Present Strong Line-up.—Four Teams Assured.—First Practice Announced

At a meeting last night in the Y.M.C.A. of the Barbarian British Rugby club, the following officers were elected for the year:

Hon. President, Mayor McManus and Bishop Grey; president, Percy Hardley; vice-president, S. M. Dinmore; hon. vice-presidents, T. M. Turnbull, C. Y. Weaver, Major Griesbach, A. J. Chalmers, Dr. Parkinson and Jackson Walton. Executive committee—F. A. Drummond, S. M. Tait, A. J. Chalmers, L. Winslow, J. E. Roche.

Upwards of 35 players were present at the meeting and great enthusiasm was shown over the bright prospects for the British Rugby game this season. It is now practically assured that there will be four teams in the league, two from Strathcona and two from the north side. It was announced that already 20 playing members have been signed up on the south side.

The teams have got permission to use the old exhibition grounds below the hill, on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and the first practice will be held on the first Saturday in April at 3 p.m.

DRIVING CLUB TO BANQUET TONIGHT

The Edmonton Amateur Driving club are holding a banquet tonight at 9 o'clock in the Northern hotel. J. H. Miller is president and H. G. Jackson, secretary of the club.

1902—Jack O'Brien defeated Charlie McKeever in 6 rounds at Philadelphia.

1911—Billy Puppe knocked out Dave Smith in 7th round at Sydney.

FRED TAYLOR TO JOIN BENEDICTS NEXT WEEK

On his trip east, Fred Taylor, renowned as the greatest hockey player to skate on the ice, is forsaking the ranks of the bachelors. Fred will be married next week to Miss Thurza Cook, daughter of the late Mr. Samuel Cook, Ottawa.

MONARCHS AND KENORA TONIGHT

All in Readiness for Crucial Game—Monarchs Are Favorites.

Winnipeg, March 11.—With both teams in splendid condition and the prospects of fast ice, the much delayed contest for possession of the Allan cup will take place at the Amphitheatre rink tonight. Though the defenders will be greatly weakened without the services of Dick Irvin at center on account of not a suitable substitute, but will be slight favorites in the betting. Two Brandon men, Clint Bennett and Foster will affiliate and the teams will line up as follows:

Monarchs	Position	Kenora
Harry Stuart	Goal	McKinnon
Alex Irvin	Point	Menty Mackenzie
Del Irvin	Cover	Cameron
Maxwell	Center	Goodie
Right Wing		Hillard
Left Wing		Harry MacKenzie
Center		Bill McKenna
Either Klammer, Eddie Barland or S. Irvin will play center for the Monarchs.

W. C. L. UMPIRES ANNOUNCED BY PRES. FLEMING

Melville Hall, March 11.—President Fleming issued the following statement of umpires signed up for the season, they are as follows: J. J. Baker, P. G. Wilson, Guy Colgate and Wallace Wheeler as spare men. From the reports reaching here from other points where Wheeler has acquired, it would appear that there has been considerable kicking about his work, but he will be retained in case of any of the other dropping out during the season.

Soon present indication it would appear that President Fleming will have good results from his hard work in trying to get suitable men to stand behind the catcher this year.

DIAMOND PARK IS OFFERED TO LOCAL AMATEURS

Diamond Park was offered to the city last night by Manager Deason White of the Edmonton Recreation company for the use of amateur athletes from May 1st until September 30th while the professional team is away from home. In return the sum of $100 is asked for by the company, which would be equal to the taxes. It is stated in the letter that if this is not granted the company could take in at least that amount in rentals, but with the object of aiding and assisting the amateur team the offer is made to the city. On motion of Alderman Clarke it was referred to the parks and market committee.

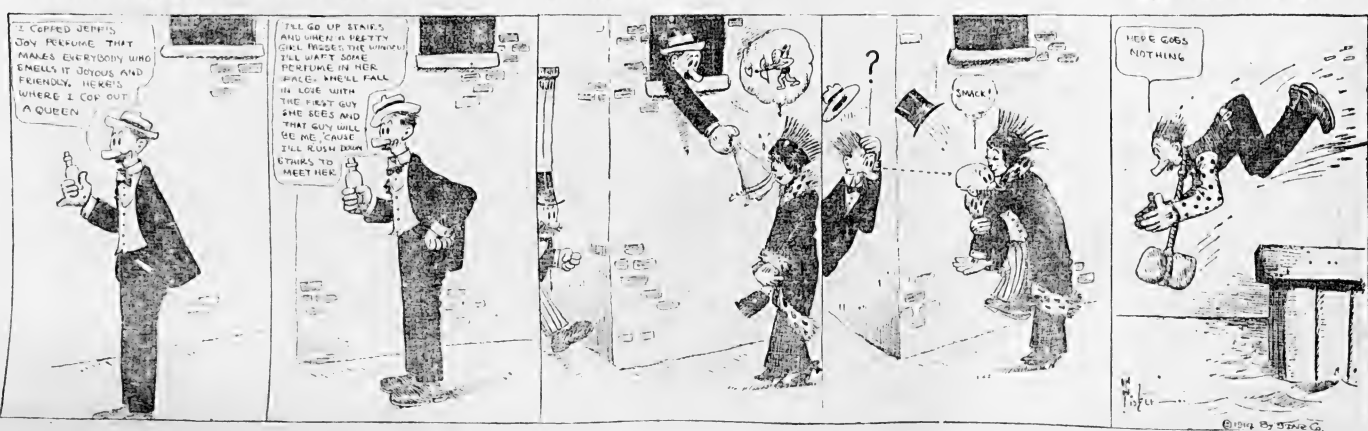

ALLAN CUP FINAL GAME FRIDAY NIGHT

Montreal, March 11.—At a late hour last night, Secretary P. D. Shand, of the S.M.A., representative of the Allan Cup trustees here, received word from Toronto tonight, ordering the winners of tonight's game to proceed immediately to Winnipeg or Kenora and play a sudden death game on Friday night for possession of the Allan cup.

Willis J. Abbot, the versatile writer on International subjects and author of many books of history and travel, spent months in Panama and the Canal Zone in the preparation of this volume. He collected at first hands the complete history of the great Canal, with a wealth of historical data concerning Panama which has never before been written. The result is a human interest story of this beautiful land and its people from the early days when Columbus tried to find a natural waterway from the Atlantic to the Pacific, down to the present time.

Special staff photographers made the hundreds of beautiful views which illustrate practically every page of this exhaustive book.

The well-known artist, E. J. Read, made the sixteen sumptuous water-color studies which are reproduced by the latest color processes on specially made paper.

The Panama Canal, the greatest engineering achievement of the world's history, cost more than
